

“Good Leader and Good Team Player”

Good Leader is one who:

- Makes the team add up to more than the sum of the parts
- Has vision and communicates to inspire
- Manages team climate
- Is trusted and respected
- Backs the team at all times
- Is approachable and understands the team; Empowers the team, creates more leaders
- Takes them to places they have never been before
- Is Open, Flexible & Honest
- Is positive and optimistic
- Is Courageous in decision making; always works in the interest of the team
- Is secure. willing to surround himself with people better than himself
- Can accept responsibility and give credit
- Serves as team-glue

Good team player is one who:

- Has a greater-than –me perspective
- Puts more in to the team pot than he takes out
- Is willing to give up the “me” for the “we”
- Is willing to pass the ball especially when the other guy is in a better position to score
- Is willing to play in whatever position the team requires him to
- Gives 100 percent. every time, under all circumstances
- Play by the team rules
- Is encouraging and is happy to see team mates do well
- Is proud of belonging to the team
- Is unafraid to express his opinion

Source:

Learnings From Sport
For Managers

SEVEN STEPS
“Making Excellence a Culture”