

“Thought for the Week”

Many of life's failures are people who did not realize how close they were to success when they gave up.

- Thomas Edison