

According to this Internationally acclaimed study conducted by Sidney Yoshida, Management's failure to understand its processes and practices from the perspective of Its customers suppressed the company's profit by as much as 40 %