

Culture eats strategy for breakfast.

- Peter Drucker

“.....Culture eats strategy for breakfast, Operational Excellence for lunch and everything else for dinner”.

Without right culture, initiatives like TQM, TPM, 5S, Lean etc.. will not take-off. Acceptance of Change, Cross functional teamwork, respect for people, commitment to learning, leading by example are some of the traits of right culture. Leadership need to focus on Culture before strategy. Even if Strategy is Great, it cannot be executed without right culture.
