

“No problem is a problem !”

Taichi Ohno - TOYOTA

- Recognizing and defining a problem is a skill
- A well defined problem is half solved
- If hammer is the only tool we have, we tend to see every problem as a nail – Abraham Maslow
- We can not solve our problems with the same level of thinking that created them – Albert Einstein
- If you are not a part of the solution, you are a part of the problem -Eldridge Cleaver
- For every problem there is an opportunity
